Monumental Story: From One Mile to 50 States

What's your resolution for 2016? For Mike Fitzgerald, it's to complete the 50 States!

"The idea of running a marathon was never much more than a passing thought, the concept seeming almost ridiculous, yet somehow intriguing. If I hadn't done it as a much younger and fitter man, why would I do it now? what I learned is that the marathon does not have to be a race. It is an experience.

In 2016, I plan to complete my 50 state journey. Three races earlier in the year will be followed by the Monumental Marathon in November - which will make Indiana my 50th marathon state. "
